Hail. Enid High School

Hail. Enid High School! Noble and strong.
To thee with loyal hearts we raise our song!
Swelling to Heaven loud our praises ring.
Hail. Enid High School! Of thee we sing.

Majesty as a crown rests on thy brow; Pride, Honor, Glory, Love, before thee bow, Ne'er can thy spirit die, thy walls decay; Hail, Enid High School, for thee we pray.

Hail, Enid High School! Guide of our youth, Lead thou thy children on to light and truth, Thee, when death summons us, others shall praise, Hail, Enid High School, through endless days.

Dedication

To you, the administrators of educa in to you, the faculty: to you the citizens i lined, to you, the students of lined High school we dedicate the 1955 Quill annual

The drive and leadership of the administrators and faculty made the book possible. The farsighted wisdom of the citizens of Enid, in voting the new wing addition, made the theme Building? a reality, and the students whose interest in worthwhile activities will make the class motto "Tomorrow, Better Than Today one true."

Administration

BY JO ANN TEMPLEMAN

The responsibility of making the Enid School system, and a school the size of Enid High run smoothly lies beyond the students and faculty, it is the responsibility of seven of Enid's outstanding citizens, the Board of Ecucation

Three of these members are elected to the Board for a term of four years by Enid citizens every two years and one member is elected at-large. The members work without actual pay for their time and effort, just as a church member and club officer work without pay, but the members feel they are repaid by the appreciation shown by Enid students and parents

The Board this year is headed by the president, Mrs. Clyde E Pinker ton and vice president, R. F. Hayes Other members are Mrs. Clarence Schrock, Cleo Fisher, E. G. Wilmoth Dave Bucher, and Albert Braithwaite

Six committees under the super vision of the president bindle the comprehensive problems that arise

The Building and Grounds Commit tee is composed of Cleo Fisher, chair man, Delma Schrock and E. G. Wilmoth, members. The Custodian's Committee is made up of Raymond Hayes, chairman, Dave Bucher and Cleo Fisher, members. The Finance Committee is headed by Delma Schrock, chairman, Dave Bucher and Cleo Fisher, members. The Insurance Committee is composed of E. G. Wilmoth, chairman, Delma Schrock and Dave Bucher, members, Dave Bucher is chairman of the Purchasing Committee with Cleo Fisher and Ray mond Haves, members. Raymond Hayes, chairman, and E. G. Wilmoth Delma Schrock, make up the Teach ers' Committee. A Sights Committee is appointed by the president each year to watch the growth of the city and purchase school sights when necessary. The chairman of this committee is E G. Wilmoth with Cleo Fisher and Raymond Haves, mem

The Superintendent of Schools bired by the board is DeWitt Waller Also employed to assist with the work are Martin H. Miller. Clerk. Henry H. Davis, Treasurer; Charas W. Carroll, Auditor; and Paul I wards, Attorney, Maintenance Superintendent is Paul Baker who replaces Gene Mood who recently moved to Wichita, Kansas

Of the School Board's many projects this year, the one of greatest interest to Enid High was the completion of the east wing which in cludes nine classrooms, the spacious cafeteria, and auditorium. In 1943 the highschool met destruction with tire, and in 1947 a part of the present building was rebuilt. In the fall of 1949, the west wing was completed which includes the machine shop, nine classrooms, the swimming pool and two complete gyms, one for the boys and one for the girls. With the completion of the east wing this year,

On Tuesday, March 8, the new auditorium was dedicated to the past present, and future students of Enid High School. This first assembly symbolized the uncountable hours of labor to make the new wing a reality

The credit for the new wing cannot rest entirely with a few people. The voters, who were wise enough to see the need for an auditorium wing, the workmen, from the architects to the bricklayers, and the administrators who gave so much time and energy to this project.

An evidence of the many hours that De Witt Waller, superintendent of schools, gave, is his numerous trips to see if each phase of the construction was being carried out correctly

Since the day after the fire disaster, plans for rebuilding a better Enid High were already in motion However, due to the increased enroll ment in the elementary schools, funds were not available to do anything about rebuilding the high school This year marks the end of the waiting period. A high school that is usable and functional, built with the student in mind, is the end result of twelve years of careful planning, to lated Mr. Waller

Enid High School with the 'new look' of the auditorium wing will add to the educational, spiritual, and cultural development of students for many years to come," concluded Mt Waller

To illustrate the driving force of D, Bruce Selby, principal, is the devoted, enthusiastic spirit he has dem ect. "Enid High School exists for one reason. For the students, and it is for the students are ence that we strive to improve our facilities," stated Mr. Selby

The completion of the auditorium wing certainly didn't lessen any of the work of the faculty or of the principal's office. In fact, never have we been so busy before." he added

From a peanut stand to the Pentagon, the amount of achievement is not measured in the end product, but in the spirit and enthusiasm in which the job is carried out. The spirit of Enid High School is never to be questioned. The new wing addition with the auditorium, cafeteria, and class rooms is here to give the future students of Enid High School the most modern, and efficient facilities in which to receive an education," stated Vir Selby

A New Wing - From the Viewpoint of a Nail

BY DONNA O'NEI'

This is my biography. Of course, the might not be interested in to life of a nail, but my life tells the story of the building which played t big role in your school life.

Remember you were just juniors when it all started. I guess, it was the first day that you noticed the post that my to begin I or some time I had been a prisoner in a keg of nails. Then one day a man reached in with its I and and picked up severa of my inmates and my. For a second I didn't know last what was going to happen the man the singled me out from the others and was to my me perpendicular to the wall of some hing at other. Just is I was about to relax, a large object.

which I later learned was a hammer come rushing toward my but I to bed. My body was bent and the man was using the most terrifying language. I dare not repeat it, partly because I was so stunned by the blow that I doubt if I could be relied on to make a correct quote. I lost consumers and when I wake I toward myself on a ledge. Since there was no escape at the time. I took a nap.

the ledge. I spent mest of the time seed the time day I was twakened by voices from below. I peeted over the edge of the ledge and was able to see one bey. In order to see the other me. I leaned turther ever the ledge. As I fost my balance, I was glad that my life had been limited to the extent that I was inable to commit any grave sins. However life was not over; I found myself in the cuff of the boy's blue jeans. Al though I was washed several times and ironed just as many times, I never lost my place in the cuff From the cust I saw he life of I and High School; and its growth

To me the noise of the construction wakers and the rough mes but always been exerting the waterow minded I would have remained. It had not talken out the ledge. My visits to the classrooms broadened my education, and they are give me my tas. Task of other peoples upon ons. For instance, I found that most of the teachers and students d.d. not finc the bulldozers or the riveting or the bammering the least bit exciting. It was easy to see why, the memory of Mrs. I loyd Spencer trying to be heard over the noise will haunt me forever. During the noisy days she would have to talk so loudly, that during the quiet days she would be so hoarse that she couldn't be heard. The building was not all roses

Since I had spent some of my earlier days viewing the construction work in the new wing, I was very eager for its completion; and had tound a real love in my heart for it. Naturally I never expected it to wreck my home lite in the cuff, which it almost did. Principal D. Bruce Selby had given me a clue which if I had heeded would have prepared me for the situation. He warned the classes about the lockers, and he was right it was almost my undoing. My mas ter was in quite a rush when t paned. He needed a book for a next class, and the locker stuck. For getting Mr. Selby's advice about controlling his temper, he took a couple of practice kicks in the air. I had been resting at the time, and it was certainly an awful experience to wake up and find myself swinging back ind forth in a wide arch. For sev eral moments I felt sure I would be sent flying from my home, but with all my strength I was able to hold on Incidentally, he didn't kick the locker. Mr. Selby came around the corner, which possibly saved my master a broken foot-

Due to my crooked body. I was able to hang over the edge of the cuff without any fear of falling After living in a world where the only change in scenery was a new pair of shoes. I was a very happy nail the day that I got my first view of the iteteria. By peering over the edge of the cuff. I could see that the floor was of white asphalt tile with green dashes of color in it, and there was a border of green tile with specks of white . very interesting country Also, the wails, as far as I could see were of cream colored cement bricks By counting 344 table legs, I was able to discover the number of tables in the caleteria. 86. Since there were 24 chair legs at each table. I figured there were six chairs at each table This information was made available chrough my mathematics course raught by Miss Ruth Moore. The lables were of nice blonde wood. but I never got a chance to see the color of the tops of the tables . . , a culf fore have disadvantages. One lunch hour I was really very nervous, my master ate dinner with a girl; and after becoming accustomed to blue eans I just couldn't relax. Oh, but this was after the auditorium was I mished

The happiest day of my life was the day Mr. Sciby called all the senions into the auditorium for a sneak preview. Those blue walls were beautiful: two shades of blue, and trimmed with white borders [1] tever never forget it! The seats had pretry red cushions, and they must have been comfortable because my master was awfully slow about get ting up. The curtains were lovely You could raise or lower them to any position by the press of a button The loveliest curtain of all was the grand curtain, which was usually a tannish rose color; but it could change colors when different colored nights hit it. At another time I saw the scene of a room on the stage and it even had a ceiling. The room was for The Thespian Play, which I

Girl's State

BY CAROLYN MUII

Saturday, June 5, ready for a wonderful week at Girls' State, five excited girls, who had come all the way from Enid, got off the bus at Chickasha. But that wasn't the beginning It all began with the junior girls writing a fifty-word theme on

Why I Want to Go to Girls' State They also listed their achievements and activities in high school. The five lucky girls who were chosen to reprisent. Enid at Chickasha were: Pophillips, Deanna Spickelmier, Karen Crowley, Jerrie Pinkerton, and Carilyn Muir.

When they arrived on the campus the girls were divided into cities and counties, and the two parties, the Boomers and the Sooners. Then they spent the rest of the day unpacking and getting acquainted with some of the three hundred and sixty-two girls who had come to Girls' State. On Sunday, everyone attended church services and had their pictures taken one picture of the entire group and on tof each city. Sunday evening there were vespers conducted by Reverend Robert Noeve of Norman, then reports on Girls' Nation were given by last year's delegates. Governor La Vena Park and Lieutenant Governor Jane Bailey

Classes in government were held every day by Samuel W. Evans, the educational director, and every evening each city held a devotional which was given by one of its citizens

On Monday evening the girls were entertained by Richard Hudnut's Charm Hour'. The demonstraters used two of the girls to show ways to use make-up and gave door prizes of cosmetics to a few lucky girls

Fuesday party conventions were to decide the candidates for state officers for each party. Pat Phillips was nominated for Governor by the Sooner party against Judy Hillier for

BY PHIL JONES, MONA LICHTENBERG, DAN DURHAM, EMAGENE JENKINS AND JANE CARLS

As told by Sgt. 1st Class Phillones of the UBI

Five—four three two—ONF Blast off! Whish shish-oo-oo-osh!! Cut blast rockets — glide path — set automatic controls

Navigator LaVonda Brewer Yes, Commander Jane Cares

Set the course for Mercury Send up Cadets Mona Lichtenberg and Emagene Jenkins and the two UBI (Universal Bureau of Investigation men, Dan Durham and Phil Jones

When the four came up, Commander Carey spoke, 'We have called you up here to brief you on our mission. We have received word that the rocket ship, Stratogem, is headed for Mercury. We will land there at 0800 hours. Our mission is to catch the gang of Krypton thieves. Their leader is Emil Benjamin Harrison alias Baby Faced Benjie. Return to your cabins and prepare for landing Navigator Brewer, contact Arden Slusher on the cool side of Mercury and get instructions for landing

Having landed on Mercury the UBI boys headed for the local moon burger joint and quite surprisingly discovered Judy Grove as chief hash slanger.

After questioning the curb hops

Dewayne Kabetzke, Mike Nicolson, John O Neil. Mark Winebrenner him Sturdivant, and Bill Langkiet Judy settled the crew for the floor show. As a special attraction the torch singer, Jerrie Pinkerton, led off with her tendition of "Three Space Ships Are A Crowd." Tripping the light fantastic with Jerrie were Johillen Barnes. Terry Torbett. Bonnie Light, Ann Henneke, Jessie Chapman, Carolyn Walters, Patsy Staple ton, Deanna Spickelmier, Margarei Luhr, and Marilyn Fraizer

After interrogating the floor show we moved over to the warm side of Mercury where J. W. Moore. Neal Hoffman. Barbara Anstead. Cynthia Merritt, Shirley Leslie, Mary Blanch ard. Elmer Hunt, and Jack Posey were basking themselves in the molton lava

Upon returning to the space ship we found Mona Rae Adams and David Metscher refueling the rockets Setting down on Venus, we no ticed the atmosphere was much chillier than normal. Suspecting trouble the UBI boys took the cadets with them.

We discovered the desperadoes had already been there and had frozen the people with their zero guns Those crystalized were Ruth Baker. Shirley Blockcolski. Pat Martin. Imma Goodwin, Mervin Noah, Bert Bucher, Teresia Parson, Bob Thorpe, Nancy Peat, Ray Downs, and David Hidebrant. We quickly whipped out our zero guns, reversed the ray, and restored them to life

Upon questioning Ray, we found that the seven thieves had headed for the Venus Gardens. There we found Feddy Brittain. Donnie Weldon Raymond Hendrie, and John Pellow admiring the statue of Venus De Milo. They were so engrossed in the statue that we could not even reach them with our super hadedrom transmitter.

As we continued on our journey we were blinded by a flash of bright light and looked up to see the Strato gem just blasting off for Earth. We rushed back to our space cruiser and blasted off in pursuit. We were preparing to land on Earth when Cadet Lichtenberg discovered on her radar scope that they were headed for Mars for which we immediately set our course. We circled the planet, hoping to find a space ship; but failing to

Boy's State

BY BEN HARRISON

The 1954 session of Oklahoma Boys' State was held on the North Base Campus of the University of Oklahoma during the week of June 7 to June 13. Five hundred and eight boys from all over the state attended this week of fun and education in the processes of our state and local government. The event was sponsored by the American Legion in co-operation with local civic clubs of Oklahoma interested in youth of our state

Registering in the Administration Building, and receiving standard State "gear", consisting of two "T" shirts, party assignments, either Boomer or Sooner, cities where you staved, and an official identification badge, began the memorable week Each boy was classified as a "citizen" of Boys' State. Every delegate from Enid was placed in separate cities, so everyone would meet citizens from other towns

Two things occurred every day of the week. One was looked forward to with great anticipation, the other however, wasn't quite so popular. The two events were class and recreation. In the class period, competent instructors from the university and authorities in the field of state government, lectured about every phase of Oklahoma's laws and by-laws. During the recereation period, sports of every nature were available to all who wanted to participate.

On Sunday, church services were held for all citizens. The Boys' State Choir sang several hymns, to put the entire assembly in a worshipful and receptive mood for the sermon. The Reverend Stanley Ray from Clinton, delivered a truly inspiring message That evening all citizens heard reports of Boys' Nation by Fred Tillman of Pawhuska, and Dallas Patton of Ardmore, delegates to the national version of Boys' State last year

Bar examinations were offered to all citizens who desired to practice law in the courts of Boys' State. At torneys who successfully completed the exam from Enid included Bert Bucher, Larry Long, Ben Harrison, Bob Murray, Paul Rempel, Bob O'Brien, Owen Wilson, Richard Gott, and Jerry Wilkins

Monday evening brought the campaign speeches and rallies for the various candidates running for state offices. The election held the next day proved the Boomers were better politicians than the Sooners. Only two Sooners were elected out of thir teen possible offices. Two citizens from Enid, Owen Wilson, and Bob O'Brien, were elected to the House of Representatives. Other candidates from Enid who aspired for office were: Bert Bucher, Attorney General Larry Long, Corporation Commissioner: John Rempel, County Superintendent of Schools; Paul Rempel House of Representatives: Richard Gott. County Assessor: Ben Harri son, Senate: Jerry Wilkins, City Manager: Bob Murray, Reading Clerk for House, Ray Potter, originally from Jet who is a 1955 EHS graduate, Member of State Board of Agriculture

The basic issues in the election were repealing prohibition, and allowing 18 year-olds to vote. In the opening session of the legislature both bills passed the houses. The prohibition bill was killed by the Senate, and Governor Wayne Hensley vetoed the bill letting 18 year olds vote. In a very convincing speech Governor Hensley presuadad the House not to override his veto. This highlighted the legislative program for the week

A variety show consisting of all Boys' State talent was held Wednes day. The junior councilors "Busted up" the program showing how they elected a governor in the "Good Old Days", to the extreme delight of every citizen. The Boys' State band gave a concert Thursday evening to credit any high school band in the state

On Friday, the last full day of Boys' State, two of the most important events were scheduled. The examination, testing one's knowledge of what he had learned from his textbook and lectures about state government: the annual Boys'-Girls' State dance, to be held on the North Base Campus. After the exam was finished, all citizens began to "slick up" for the arrival of the Girl Staters from Chickasha. The dance was a lot of fun, and a fitting climax for the week's activities

Saturday morning was the last time the Boys' State citizens assembled. The Koch City flag, Melvin Brown's boys doing extra exercises, the Variety Show, and the many, many, other experiences of this week became memories to be cherished always. With good byes and promises to renew friendships, the 1954 version of Boys' State came to an end

One singular experience stands out above all others. As each day began and ended, the American flag was raised and lowered, with 500 boys standing at attention. This feeling the historians and philosophers say is Patriotism. Words are inadequate to express this feeling. It unites every person with a sense of duty, respect, and obligation to that flag This is the real objective of Boys' State. Freedom's cause, the cause that men have died for through the years This training at Boys' State makes one aware of his great responsibility to God, to country, and to his fellowmin hand High is now one of the most practical and finest equipped high schools anywhere.

This year $350,000 was voted in bonds to be used for the Enid schools. Plans have been made to build four new classrooms and one large base ment room on to Adams Elementary. School. Classrooms for Monroe and Coolidge schools are also planned. The junior highs are to be remodeled by enlarging the dressing room and cafeteria at Emerson Junior High and building a balcony in the Longfellow auditorium.

The students of Enid High School want to express their gratitude to these seven Enid citizens for their un selfish, tireless effort in all they have accomplished and their constant striving for improvement of the Enid School System

Point of Order, Mr. Chairman

BY PAT DENNIS

"To you is entrusted the student dignity of Enid High School. It is by your deeds and actions that she is judged for you are her representative."

It is these words, although never spoken, which stand for each Student Council member, for Student Council at E. H.S. is not just a club but an institution

This year, as always, the council had added many new improvements to the already outstanding building Most important, no doubt, was the starting of the first annual Sadie Hawkins Week. For the first time In Enid High history the girls took the upper hand in night life activity by doing all the askin', payin', and totin' for. The week beginning March 14 with an assembly, was climaxed the 18th by an all school dance at the Legion Hall

The organization, besides taking care of all school sponsored elections, handles, with the aid of the printing department, the production of the student directories. The directory covers, submitted by the art classes, are chosen during one of the meetings with the final vote being cast by the officers

At the first of the year, to bestow the good wishes of the school upon the newly enrolled students, a party was held in the old cafeteria. To carry out the theme of the party, games designed to acquaint the honorees were mapped out and played

October 22 brought to Enid High School, Ponca City students after presenting their exchange assembly, were played host to by Student Council officers and Miss Moore in a milk and donut session afterward in the cafeteria. Next on the agenda was a conducted tour during which notable points of interest were viewed

In case wonderings have arisen as to the variety of reading and viewing matter in the front hall bulletin board, the council is again the source Judy Grove offered her innumerable talents to take over the terrible task of keeping the little gossip board well supplied with choice copy

Two open houses, November 9 and April 1, were on their busy slate. The members acted as hosts and host esses and squired the parents around the building

An important item discussed was the production of a Student Hand Book. The book containing the rules and by-laws of Enid High will be given to new students coming to the Enid School system from other towns.

Highlighting the year for four members was the State Student Council Convention held this year in Duncan. Oklahoma, during the December 3rd, 4th, and 5th weekend. The four students representing their respective classes were: Merlene Duckworth, junior: Howard Roe, sophomore. Terry Torbett, senior; and Larry Long, president. Miss Moore accompanied the group

Heading the council this year were the following student body officers Larry Long, president; John Pellow, vice president; Judy Grove, secretary Pat Dennis, treasurer; and Emagene Jenkins, reporter, with Miss Ruth Moore, sponsor

Those contributing to the Student Council's many achievements are Sally Bonham, first semester, and Ann Austin, second semester, Miss Armould's homeroom: Joan Marler. first semester, and Sally Bonham, sec ond semester, Mrs. Boyle's home room: Dorothy Hart, Miss Correll's homeroom, Howard Roe, Mr. Duck ett's homeroom. The new wing also has twelve classrooms. The whole wing makes me feel really bad because I am not a part of it. Wait, what is this? Someone is pounding me in a wall Well, thank goodness, it's part of the auditorium wall.

see it, we checked with the control tower on Mars to find out if any ship had entered or left the Mars orbit. We found that they had entered, so we set down to investigate

As we stepped out of our ship we saw the people of Mars eating their daily supply of chlorophyll cap sules which makes them green skin ned. Among those licking their chops were J. W. Shaunty. Shirley Smith Christina Welch, Rita Nivison, Roberta Duggan, Vance Peak, Gary Bloom, Donald Key, Gene Kurz, Pat Dennis, and Camilla Woods

We traced the gang to the local saucer-port. The Commander of the Flying Saucer Squadron, Imo Coop er, introduced us to the pilots, Kay Dailey, Alan Livingston, Janet Wey er, Deanna Fisher. Bob McCarthy Charles Bailey, and Ronnie Davis After cross-examining them, we found that the villains had confis cated another load of Krypton

Careening through the Milky Way, we swept by the Dairy Maid No. 15, owned by Carole Shelp, and prited by Kent Corey. Having a double flip were Suda Bobbitt, Milton Andrews, Rosetta Hoyle, Richard Gott, Mary Helen Callas, and John Ferguson

Landing on Jupiter, we traced out clues to the 1200th Annual Rodeo less Brewer. Bill Ream. Linda Robbins. and Grace Rummerv were entered in the bronc riding. In the bulldogging event were Joyce Edwards. Dolores Greer. Charles West Jerry Cone, and Paul Rempel. Roping the calves were Carl Stanton, Bill Vickers. Jerry Wackerman, and Herb Wood. listening, when out of nowhere a bell sounded. When the stampede terminated, Rover and Fido sat huddled together in a dark corner in the hall. "Don't we lead a dog's life!" exclaimed Rover as the two sneaked toward the nearest exit

Not satisfied with their first trip the two adventurous canines again returned to "the scene of the crime This time, while trying to escape observation, the two overheard the strains of "White Evening", Chip Yo' Hands", Ca Down Disting "Laudamus Te Sing Wa VI

"Grant Unto Us Thy Blessing", and the traditional "Hallelujah Chorus" The chorus was reheatsing for the thirteenth annual Thanksgiving chor al festival to be held November 22 at Stillwater. The group was working feverishly, and Rover and Fido enthralled by the beautiful music, did not notice a man with a railroad hat and overalls sneaking slowly upon the pair. Rover saw him just in time to bark the alert to Fido and as the two raced out of the building, they heard someone yell, "Catch them, Mr. Kirk." This savage yell

no doubt pertained to the individual who was chasing the "intruders" out of the building

'I would just love to go back and find out what happens at the Christ mas vespers," said Rover. "Christmas vespers?" exclaimed Fido. "Who, why, where, when, and what are the Christmas vespers?"

"I overheard Miss Morrow, that's the director," explained Rover, "telling Shirley Leslie, Mary Dye, and Barbara Erwin, that over fifteen-hundred school children will take part in this event that will be held Decem ber 12 in the Convention Hall. They will sing Christmas carols and rounds with the grades junior high, and high school students participating

Well, you really get around don't you." Fido raid I et's go to hear them sing. So the couple agreed and when the day arrived, two unseen observers sat huddled together high in a corner of Convention Hall closely listening to the beautiful chords that rose from the floor

Later on in the winter, the pups were still discussing the wonderful time they had had at the Christmas vespers when again in their travels they chanced upon the building. Enid High School. As Rover and Fido sat contemplating whether or not to chance going in the building again the front door burst open, and two people, whom they recognized as Ann White and Bob Dundas, were discussing plans to sing at Kiwanis Behind Ann and Bob were two more well known couples, Jerrie Pinkerton and Vance Peak, and Karen Crowler and Elwyn Maddox. The couples were busily talking over various plans to attend civic affairs and sing in as semblies and passed by Rover and Fido without noticing the two admitters.

In open door was the perfect chance for which the dogs had been waiting Darting quickly inside, the two proceeded down the stairs to the first floor toward their old "lookout post" outside the chorus room. They noticed however, that the music they heard was not coming from the chorus room. The strains were drift ing down from the newly completed auditorium. Being inquisitive, the pair journeyed up to the auditorium to get the facts". As they entered a strange sight came to their eyes The glee club girls, with whom the two had become well acquainted were on the stage practicing an Hawantan dance. "Boy, this is some dance," said Rover. As the pups sat in the darkened auditorium, they were about discovered by four couples who were practicing what they called 'the polka''. They later learned that these couples were Joan Kudlac. Sue Holley. Naoma Deurkson Claudine Harris, Danny Duggan lames Pride. Pat O Leary, and Bobby I indeter "They also were termed Sophomores' or something of the sort," said Fido, "and are going to dance the polka on the 'Time to Sing program

As the two watched, Carol Carlberg, accompanist for the mixed chorus, began playing a waltz, and Larry Long and Sue Pope danced gratefully onto the stage. Wagging their tails in thorough enjoyment the two glanced at each other, gave a nod of approval and continued to watch the brilliant show before them. The song ended, and Fido and Rover jumped to their feet to bark an encore, but thinking better of it, they headed for the door.

Fido and Rover many times returned to the building to hear this beautiful music and see the wonderful dances, but a dog is a dog, and it is quite a dangerous occupation to enter and leave someone's humble abode" without asking their permission. So the "strays" began coming to the building at night. One spring night as the two romped playfully up to their "private entrance", they noticed that the auditorium was all "Itt up"

Hearing the old familiar chords the pair hurried quickly inside Quiet ly they entered the auditorium, found them a spot in a dark corner, and settled themselves to listen. On the floor next to the couple, they noticed a piece of paper containing a list of names and what seemed to be a program "I'm sure glad I'm an educated dog so I can read this," said Fido "Do you know what this says?"

No," Rover replied, "Well," Fido excitedly explained, "this must be the dress rehearsal for the "Time to Sing' program " Just as he was about to begin explaining further, the music began, and the observers stopped the discussion to listen

The two sat entranced by the beauty of the music and were so overwhelmed that it was all that Rover could do to keep Fido from adding his lyric tenor voice to the choir. The program unfolded before their eyes, boys glee club, accompanied by Carol Carlberg, girls' glec club, accompanied by Elwyn Mad dox: girls' chorus, accompanied by Diane Miller, and of course, the mixed chorus with Carol at the piano, two hundred voices all under the direction of Miss Maurine Mornow

As Rover glanced down the list of names, he saw several newly added seniors, J. W. Moore, Imo Copper and Bill Hall Turning their attention again to the stage, they heard the strains of "Tweedle-Dee", sung by Patsy Hathoot: "Young and Foolish", by Karen Crowley: "Hearts of Stone", by a trio, Marlene Cline Barbara Anstead and Joyce Maupin: Sisters", by Jerrie Pinkerton and Deanna Fisher: "Sincerely" by an other trio, Pat Thayer, Linda Williams, and Allie Steers; songs by a grils quartet, Jerrie Pinkerton, Ann White, Deanna Fisher, and Kay Ewing, a novelty dance to "Red Wing by Alice Gundlach, a boys quartet, Vance Peak, Bob Dundas Elwyn Maddox, and James Land rum, all singing "hit" times for the portion "Stars on Parade

The concluding number on the program was the crowning of the chorus queen, Bonnie Light by her attendant Ray Potter. Other attend ants were. Deanna Fisher and Elwyn Maddox, Jerrie Pinkerton and Vance Peak: Karen Crowley and Melvin Warren, and Allie Steers and Marvin Warren

The curtain closed, and the muscal puppies sat too elated to talk. The people began clamoring out of the auditorium, and Rover and Fido were close behind. If you had been listen ing closely, you could have heard Rover say to Fido, "What a year" This will really be something to tell our grandpuppies."

The Night of January 16th

BY KAY DAILEY

Guilty or innocent? This was the question facing the audience of the All School Play, "Night of January 16th". Directing the play was Mrs. Delyte Poindexter.

One of the most unusual plays ever to be presented in Enid High School, the play was actually a trial with the jury selected from the audience. The witnesses, members of the cast, were seated in the audience.

The trial was a battle of wits between the two lawyers, Defense At toney Stephens and District Attorney Flint, Flint, the methodical lawyer, basing his case on facts, was played exceptionally well by Bert Bucher. Stephens, played by Ben Harrison, basing his case on emotional appeal, was particularly outstanding

Karen Andre, the defendant, an older woman, was a difficult part for a young girl, but a dramatically convincing performance was given by Karen Crowley

'Court attention' with this statement from the bailiff, Paul Rempel. and the escorting of the defendant into the court by prison matron Ruth Baker, the play began. After Jerry Wilkins, court clerk, had called the jury and Judge Heath, Milton Andrews, had instructed the jurors in their duty, the trial proceeded. Kent Corey, court policeman, was on hand to see that all was done according to the law. The court secretary, Carolyn Muir, defense secretary, Linda Rob bins, and district attorney's secretary Jane Carey, sharpened their pencils and prepared to record the trial. The Judge, clerk, prison matron, policeman, secretaries, and bailiff played their respective parts to credit any court officials

On the night of January 16th, Bjorn Faulkner fell or was pushed from the roof of the Faulkner Building. As the witnesses were called, the following story unfolded

"Faulkner could have died from the bullet wound or the fall," stated Dr. Kirkland, the slightly eccentric medical examiner, played very well by Ralph Myers

Mrs. John Hutchens, wife of the night janitor in the Faulkner Building, timidly stated that she had seen Miss Andre, Mr Faulkner, and two other gentlemen come into the building on the night of the murder, and later the two gentlemen had left about ten minutes apart. Suda Bob bitt gave an excellent characterization of the timid, nervous woman

Homer Van Fleet, private detective, stated that he had been hired to follow Bjorn Faulkner, and had seen Karen Andre push Faulkner off the building Ray Potter played the non-chalant private eye to match the indifference of any character out of Mickey Spillane

Elmer Sweeney, the ambitious young rookie patrolman, was Vance Peak, portraying the enthusiasm and energy of any young man who is new on the job. He was assigned to in vestigate the murder, but gave forth no information, except about himself

Janet Kindt efficiently characterized Jane Chandler, the police court secretary. Miss Chandler established the fact that Karen Andre could forge Faulkner's name almost perfectly.

In the role of Nancy Lee Faulkner, Eleanor Northrop portrayed the heart broken widow to the extent of breaking down completely in her testimony. Nancy Lee told that Bjorn had reformed when he married her, and that he had discharged his secretary, and was trying to save his business.

Injecting a note of humor into the play, Magda Svenson, Swedish house maid played by Pat Sharp, kept the audience in hysterics during her testimony

Katen Andre had another boy friend, stated Miss Svenson, and he was one of the two gentlemen in the apartment the night of January 16th

John Graham Whitfield, bank president, father of Nancy Faulkner, told the jury he believed that Faulk ner's empire could have been saved—had he lived Charles Lewis did the part of the brilliant financier extreme ly well

In the role of the emotional Swede Sigurd Jungquist, Bob Dundas injected humor and drama into the play, demonstrating real acting ability

Jungquist stated that Faulkner said he would commit suicide if his busi ness empire crashed. Jungquist also admitted he had served a term in prison

Karen Andre's testimony was the high point of the trial. Telling how Faulkner had married Nancy only because of her money, she was interrupted by Larry Regan, the hard boiled character of the underworld played excellently by Wade Chambers, who rushed into the courtroom to tell Karen Andre that Faulkner was dead

When Karen again took the stand, she related an altered version of her first story.

Bjorn Faulkner deposited ten miltion dollars in a South American bank. Then, on the night of January 16th, Larry Regan brought the dead body to Miss Andre's apartment Regan and Faulkner then left—after giving Faulkner enough time to reach the airport—Karen Andre pushed the dead body off the building

Larry Regan then took the stand to tell the part of the story Karen did not know. When Regan had reached the airfield, he had found the plane gone. He had waited in the back seat of a black sedan parked there until the owner came back. Regan produced a check the man had given him. The check was signed by John Graham Whitfield

Upon cross questioning, Regan ad mitted he loved Karen Andre—she loved Faulkner—that was their only proof

As the last witness, Roberta Van Rensselaer, the wife of the deceased lefty O'Toole, drew the attention for which she was dressed, from the audience as she took and left the witness stand. Norma Thompson played the part of the "moll" of a gang of crooks exceedingly well

As the jury filed off the stage to come to a verdict, the members of the audience were heard trying to arrive at their decision

Two different endings were learned for the play—to agree with the verdict brought in by the jury

On the night of November 16th, in the Education Building, Karen Andre was found guilty of the murder of Bjorn Faulkner, ending one of the most unusual plays in the history of EHS

Students assisting in the play were Student directors — John Rempel. Ann Hayes: Prompters. Allie Steers. Judy Goucher: Stand Ins. Rosetta Hoyle. Sandy Barris. Gale Webb. # "We Were Young That Year"

BY MARY BETH DONNELL

Ann White enthralled the audience with her portrayal of Nancy, a wist ful young girl of sixteen in the play We Were Young That Year," pre sented by the junior class, and di rected by Mrs Delyte Poindexter

In the play Nancy recalls the things that made her summer so wonderful. Andy, a handsome young athlete, played by Bob Dundas, was the main factor in making the sum mer so enjoyable

The others who helped make her summer so exciting were Ernie and Joe played by "the class comic," Gregg Bond, and everybody's pal-Joe Hume. They were always crack ing stories out of their handy joke book

Betsy, who was always trying to get a laugh, was Cinda Siler who characterized the part extremely well Charlene Hicks and Ray Asfahl played the parts of Prudy and Steve who were engaged. Dick Scarritt did an excellent job in the part of Larry, a sophisticated college man, who is very interested in Marsha a beautiful and glamorous girl of eighteen play ed by Sally Bonham. Kathaleen nes did a good job with the part of Aunt Sally, a fluttery old maid and bird fancier. Nine year-old Patsy and Dunnie played by Karen Smith and David Fisher, caused quite a stir with their space helmets and games of cow boys and Indians. Sandy Barris made a perfect Carol, the pretty, eager-to please girl of seventeen

Hudson and Jack were portrayed by David Miller and Gail Crawford Elsie and Leona were Mary Edith Taylor and Elaine Palecek. A girls quartet was made up of Barbara Hock, Charlsie Gustin, Vonna Morris and Kay Ewing

Off stage during a movie scene, came the voices of Ralph Meyers and Cynthia Grow in the parts of a man and woman in a melodramatic Eng lish movie. Virginia Merritt was a woman in the movie audience who frowned all through the show. Dana Rahm and Rose Etta Durbin were in charge of the background music

During the box supper, where Nancy first came in contact with Andy, the voice of Max Jones could be beard auctioning off the boxes

The summer was gone for Nancy, but the memory would be there for ever-the little things that mean so much the smell of his hair tonic, the touch of his hand, things always to be remembered

As the curtain was drawn on the final act, the audience was captivated by the sweet story of a young girl's

BY KAREN CROWLEY

'It was one of the tenderest, most human plays—a play overflowing with love and laughter—a play so close to the heart that smiles and tears were intermingled." This was the reaction of the audience witnessing the first Thespian play ever presented in the history of Enid High School

'Room For One More', a full length comedy by William Davidson under the direction of Mrs. Delyte Poindexter, was performed in the new auditorium, Friday, March 25

No matter how hard it was to make ends meet in the Pumpkin Shell, their tiny summer cottage by the ocean, the Rose family always found "Room For One More"

Marilyn Giles did a fine job portraying her character of Mother, whose heart was big enough for all children. Charles Lewis, who took the part of Poppy, is to be commend ed on his performance of a man who could never turn down any child from his household. Derel Schrock should be congratulated on his outstanding portrayal of Jimmy John. one of those rare roles that the audience took to their hearts. No one could have done a better job in the role of Joey, who wanted to become a doctor more than anything else, than Walt Bowart did Another Sophomore, Glenda Braithwaite, did herself proud in her part of Janey, who finally learned to belong. No one will forget Kay Dailey acting her unforgetable character of Teensie, who loved to collect all kinds of things from snakes to turtles. Miss Winston (Carolyn Lacy), Trot Rose (Lillie Regier), Mrs. Biddle (Paula Painer, George Biddle (Bob Holcomb), and Rescued Woman (Kay Mason) also should be proud for excellent jobs as supporting actors and actresses

In the Rose family, it was often hard to tell their own children from the stranger they took under their wing. Janey, however, their latest acquisition, was somewhat of a problem. They had promised the Home to keep her for two weeks, and the day she was to return she still acted ike a stranger. Then Miss Winston, from the Home, arrived a day earlier to take Janey back with her. Since Janey rebelled, the rest of the children took a vote and decided that she could stay. They had no sooner shifted the sleeping quarters around to make room for her, when Jimmy John was taken into the ever growing family. Then in the midst of their heetic but happy existence, tragedy struck when Poppy died of a heart attack. Mother's adopted family pitched in to keep the Pump kin Shell going. It wasn't easy, for Joey was starting his first year at medical school, and Mother's rejection slips from her writing came in with alarming regularity. When Joey realized how tough things were for the family, he decided to give up medical school and accepted a job Mother, however, put her foot down on the idea. Meanwhile Jimmy John made remarkable improvements and was enabled to walk with hardly a trace of a limp. Finally, Mother decided that the only solution to their financial problems was to sell the Pumpkin Shell. But fortune, like a sudden burst of sunshine, smiled upon the Rose family, and all ended well in a tender and heartwarming conclusion of a rare and memorable SUMPLET

Touchdown Tallies

BY BUDDY CHAMPLIN and JIM STURDIVANT

The 1954 Enid Plainsmen football season featured hard luck throughout the campaign for the Warriors from West Wabash. The Plainsmen, who were ably coached by Charlie Paine and Jimmy Keeton, had four victories while losing to six decisively heavier elevens

A light, but scrappy and speedy team, played a determined brand of football throughout the season. The Fried line was outweighed 10 pounds per man in almost every tilt in their rugged schedule.

Enids pony backfield was called by many sports scribes one of the finest in the state. The speed of half back Johnny Pellow and Donnie Weldon, the power of fullback "Bronco" Bob Davis, and the masterful ball trickery of senior quarterback Terry Ingram, rolled up an unbelievable total of 1,548 yards rushing

The first game of the season inaugurated a new stadium with a seat ing capacity of 5,500. An impressive 28 6 Enid victory over the fighting Ciarber Wolverines gave the rest of the schedule a more optimistic outlook Pellow scored twice in the encounter with Weldon and Davis each tallying once. Guard Ray "Golden Toe" Downs booted four perfect con versions Late in the game, with the Plainsmen reserved on the field,
Ciarber fullback Curt Hickle punched over from the three-yard line for the lone Garber tally of the evening

The next week against Stillwater. Johnny Pellow had a field day in the 28 7 rout of the hapless Pioneers Pellow ran for three touchdowns and passed for a fourth. The outstanding play of the game was Pellow's brilliant 67 yard punt return in which he completely reversed his field and out ran a host of pursuing Pioneers

The undefeated Plainsmen then invaded Owen Stadium in Norman where they were handed by the fired up Tigers a 27-0 deficit in the first half. The Plainsmen fought gallantly back in the second half before losing 34-27 Norman's great halfback, Wilson Wilhite, scored three touch downs in the first half, for the boys from Sooner town Pellow continued his scoring spree by taking two perfect tosses from Terry Ingram and racing 29 and 55 yards into the royal soil of the end zone Davis went 52 yards in a third quarter touchdown thriller, and Ingram nosed over from the one yard line to account for the Enid scoring

The vengeful Plainsmen journeyed to Shawnee to pound out a 24-12 triumph in drizzling weather which made it almost impossible for either team to pass. Enid's ground game made up for what it couldn't do in the air, with Ingram and Pellow each scoring twice. Following this win the Plainsmen were vaulted into the eighth spot in state prep ratings

Enid chalked up its fourth win of the season against the visiting Central Cardinals with halfback Donnie Weldon running wild in the 26-7 victory. The Cardinal defenses had their sights set for Pellow and left 'Dazzling' Donnie Weldon wide open, as he scampered seven yards in the second quarter for the first Plainsmen tally. He returned the second half kickoff 85 yards to further baffle the Cardinals. Then, linebacker John Marler intercepted a Central pass, and raced 55 yards untouched by Card inal tacklers. Fullback Davis cracked over from the one yard line for the other Plainsmen score

The Capitol Hill Redskins, perennial powerhouse of the Mid-State Conference, proved to have too much depth in the forward wall for the Plainsmen, as they dumped Enid 26-7. Halfbacks Bobby Jobe, Carl Slayton, and end Bill McNutt, making All Mid State honors, scored for the Skins in the first half to set the Plainsmen back 19 0 at the half Weldon put the Plainsmen back into the ball game with a 7 yard sprint in the third period. The injuries suffered in this tilt were a prime factor in the losing landslide of the Plainsmen which began with this game. Center Bill Lang, haltback Pellow, and fullback Davis suffered injuries in the contest with the Hillmen

With All State quarterback, Roy Boring, leading the way, the Ponca City Wildcats put on a fantastic exhibition of ball handling while downing the Big Blue 28 14. Boring scored twice and kicked one field goal The two Boring tallies came after he had pitched to fullback Jackie Rein. who then flipped the pigskin back to Boring at the last second before going down, Halfback Dick Wilson scored twice in the game, once on a play which saw the ball change hands three times. Boring lateraled to Rein. who then returned the ball to Boring who proceeded then to give the ball to Wilson, who crossed the double stripe. John Pellow was the whole show offensively, for the Plainsmen. as he ran 38 yards for one touchdown and passed 22 yards to H. L. Crites for the other.

The Blues played their best defensive ball game of the year against the Classen Comets, but it was all in vain, due to losing 11 to 13 fumbles as the Comets raced to a 19-6 victory All three Classen touchdowns came after the Comets fell on Enid fumbles inside the Plainsmen 20 yard marker. Pellow scored Enid's touchdown in the fourth stanza with an electrifying 38 yard end run. The Enid defense showed up well in this game with Bobby Atkinson, Steve Meitler, John Marler, Keith Roberts, Charles Bailey and John Pounds looking exceptional in the fray

It was too much of Ronnie Jones for the homestanding Plainsmen, as they were upset by the rampaging Lawton Wolvennes 34-13, Lawton. who was given the pre-season nod to capture the state crown, came into the game as a six point underdog, but emerged highly successful. The greasy-hipped. Jones can circles around the Plainsmen all night, rolling up 183 yards rushing. Jones was heralded as one of the finest halfbacks ever to plant his cleats in Plainsmen soil In the first quarter of play, Pellow passed to Crites who raced 86 yards. outrunning six Wolverines on his

Eleven golf hopefuls strolled onto the links at Meadowlake Golf Course March 14 to officially open the 1955 golf season for Enid High School The golfers, under the direction of Coach Paul Geymann, possessed hopes of bettering last year's excellent score of 6 wins to 3 losses in regular play

When the dust had cleared from a few practice matches, Charles Swartz, Jimmy Wright, Ed Bullard, Earl West, James Gammon, David Sneary, Charles Gasaway, George Ragan, Phil Pratz, Ralph Rogers, and Ronald Stewart had made the team Charles Swartz was the only returning letterman.

After much eager anticipation, the team met their first foe, Phillips University, at Meadowlake on March 17. Starting the season with flying colors, the locals romped over Phillips by the score of  $8\frac{1}{2}$  to  $3\frac{1}{2}$ . Charles Swartz emerged low stroker

March 25 found the confident EHS golfers at Stillwater. The local linksters returned home with their second straight victory. The score. 7 to 5 Charles Swartz again came out with the lowest score

Battling a stiff March wind on March 31 at Ponca City, the hometown boys suffered their first defeat in three starts. The score, 6 to 9

April 4 saw the locals defeat visitors from Stillwater for the second straight time, 7½ to 4½. Charles Swartz, a continual standout on the team, again marched out with the low tally.

On April 7, at the Oakwood Golf and Country Club course, the EHS lads, led by Charles Swartz, Earl West, James "Pug" Gammon, and Jimmy Wright, proceeded to bury a Mid State foe, Oklahoma City Central, by the one-sided score of 1312 to 415

On April 11, journeying to Blackwell, locals continued their winning ways by defeating their hosts 10 to 2 Outstanding play was turned in by all members of the team

The Enid High School squad de feated Ponca City in their second meeting on April 14. The match at Oakwood saw the locals come out on top with the score reading: 11½ to

The usual schedule of play was high-lighted by the Mid State Conference Tourney at the Oakwood course. The defending champion. O.C. Classen, advanced as the top team. Classen was closely pressed by second place Enid. Jim Gardner of Classen emerged as medalist with a total of 150 strokes for 36 holes.

On April 21, the local linksters experienced their second defeat. O.C Central, avenging an earlier Enid victory, defeated the locals at the Lin coln Park course. The score:  $13\frac{1}{2}$  to  $14\frac{1}{2}$

Coach Geymann's crew traveled to the Oklahoma City Country Club April 19th to meet the challenge of Casady High School. The EHS boys, defying all opponents, made fairly easy go of Casady High. The score. 11 to 7.

When your reporter was asked to hand in his account of the 1955 golf story, the local lads had three more matches to play. On April 25, they met Blackwell at Meadowlake. They played in the state meet at O.C. Lincoln Park April 27 and 28. Their final match was with O.C. Casady High at Oakwood

The golf team had played an outstanding season so far with seven wins and two losses. But by continuing the excellent play, the boys were sure to finish the season with flying laurels

Baseball

BY BOB DAVIS

Starting off the 1955 baseball season, the Enid Plainsmen journeyed to Tonkawa to play the Tonkawa Junfor College in a practice game on March 10. Bobby Atkinson, promising sophomore hurler, started for the "blue and white" and did a fine job. giving up only two bits and no runs in the three innings he pitched. At kinson was followed by Robert Conklin, Ronald LaPorte, and sophomore Bob Holmes, all of whim did good jobs, while E. H. S. went on to defeat Tonkawa 16 4 Backing up the four hurlers was an experienced ball club with six returning lettermen, Terry Ingram, Don Weldon, Bob Davis, Robert Conklin, Ronald La Porte, and Walter Spaid

Next, the Plainsmen took on the Garber Wolverines and set them down by a 15-7 count with Atkinson again starting and followed by La Porte and Holmes. E. H. S. got 11 hits

On March 23, the Plainsmen traveled to Garber for a return game. This time, with Atkinson and Conklin pitching, the team was defeated 4-2, collecting six scattered hits off Bob Adams, Garber's ace

Moving into their first conference game with a record of two wins and one loss. Coach Propost's boys played Capitol Hill on March 24. Bob Holmes, the sophomore left hander was picked to start the game Holmes, in his first starting assignment, did a creditable job in holding Capitol Hill to a close 3-2 victory. The Plainsmen could manage only three hits off the Redskin hurler, while Capitol Hill got only five off Holmes Hurting the Plainsmen most were costly errors in the seventh inning which enabled Capitol Hill to score the tie breaking runs that won the Evening their conference record on March 28, the Plainsmen nine defeated Classen 4-3 behind Bob Atkinson who gave up three runs in the first inning, but settled down to shut out the Comets the rest of the way. Steve Meitler led the five-hit attack with a solid double to left field and two line drives to the outfield. Enid fought gamely to come from behind, scoring two runs in the last half of the first inning, with single runs in the fourth and fifth to assure the victory for Atkinson.

On March 29, E.H.S. played the Alva Goldbugs at Alva. Unleashing a 16 hit barrage, the Plainsmen scored 17 runs while Alva could score only four times against La Porte and Gail Crawford. Gary Bloom connected for a home run and Donald Weldon got two doubles to furnish power for the Enid high team. In the big second inning the whole team scored before there was an out made, and scored 11 runs before the inning was over. Semrad and Spaid each got three singles in the five inning game

The Shawnee Wolves came to Enid on March 31 to play the Plainsmen nine in a double-header. On a muddy field. Enid high defeated Shawnee in the first game 5-2 with Robert Conklin starting and relieved by sophomore Jerry Keeling, who pitched a two hit game for six in nings. The team got five runs on five hits and committed no errors in the seven inning contest

In the second game, Enid put out a nine hit effort to back up Bob Holmes' one hit pitching performance. Holmes struck out five of the first six men he faced. Semrad and Ingram raised their batting averages by getting three hits each. Davis and Spaid each hit doubles to help Holmes carn his first win in conference play.

On the next evening the team again journeyed to Garber to challenge the Wolverines. Scoring single runs in Continued on page 120

"Under The Big Top"

BY EMAGENE JENKINS

Las-dees and gentlemen, we now present the fifth annual water show, 'Under the Big Top" Hurry and grab your seats for the greatest show on earth."

With these words Ringmaster Judy Grove introduced the first act of the water show circus held on the nights of March 21 and 22. The "Entree" was directed by Emagene Jenkins and Carol Cashion. All of the Aquaettes participated in one of the splashwat acts of the show

No circus is complete without a band' So, to the stirring John Philtip Sousa march, 'Stars and Stripes Forever," the Aquaette circus band marched in under the direction of Deanna Spickelmier. The drum major was Emagene Jenkins, 🧰 t i c band members were or Pinker ton, Jo Ann Templeman, Jo Al bright, Merlene Duckworth, Deanna Spickelmier, Linda Robbins, Gerri Link, Janet Wever, and Kay Kauf

One of the most graceful features of any circus is the aerialists. Carolyn Walters and Shirley Smith in a breath-taking performance demonstrated the skill and precision it takes to be one of these performers

Come to the Side Show to see the freaks! They're the best ever; you'll remember them for weeks. Some of these strange looking creatures were Nannie, the fat lady, Nancy Earnest Emey, the two-headed lady, Emagene Jenkins: Jane Carey and Janet Wever, the jugglers; Terry Torbett. the beared woman; and the donkey girl, Marilyn Bell. This act was written by Carolyn Walters and

Shirley Smith

With much skill and agility, the acrobatic act, under the direction of Jo Ellen Barnes and Terry Torbett. went through a series of somesaults surface dives, ballet legs, and twists and turns to illustrate the ease of the circus gymnasts. The circus magician was Virginia Merritt, and the other acrobats were Jane Johnstone, Ann Hayes, Jane Carey, Suda Bobbitt, Rose Etta Durbin, and Carol Cash-

Now, we venture into the land of make believe where things go amiss. but all ends in bliss. Everyone knows the story of Snow White, and in keeping with the story, the seven dwarfs portrayed the contentment in Snow White's life. Those dressed up as the little men were. Kay Kaufman, Dopey; Carol Cashion, Happy: Jerrie Pinkerton, Sneezy: Rose Etta

Durbin, Doc; Gerri Link, Sleepy: Jo-Albright, Bashful, and Merlene Duckworth, Grumpy. Of course, before good comes, there is always some bad; and the bad in the princess's life was her mean old stepmother, the witch. Feeding Snow White the poison apple was Kay Meibergen as the witch However, as said before, all ends in bliss, and Snow White and Prince Charming do live hap pily ever after. Prince Charming was swum by Ann Hayes, while Snow White was Emagene Jenkins Jane Carey and Jo Ann Templeman were directors of this fairy tale

An added attraction at any big top is the clowns. Merlene Duck worth and Nancy Earnest, dressed up in polka-dotted suits, rolled out giving a splashy, fun filled performance

The trained animals came next on the agenda. Beautiful white prancers with red bridles and braided tails performed in grand style under the whip of their trainer, Jo Ann Tem pleman. The horses were Carolyn Walters, Suda Bobbitt, Jane John stone, and Virginia Merritt

The waltzing cat appeared next in the center ring for the animal act Nancy Earnest did the honors

Amid a series of barks, and yelps. the dogs trotted out to go through their routine which ended with a jump through a hoop. The four panting pups were Jerrie Pinkerton Jo Elfen Barnes, Marilyn Bell, and Shirley Smith

The animal act was under the direction of Nancy Earnest and Kay

Meibergen

Slipping gracefully into the water among the swaying palms and soft music were Ann Hayes, Linda Rob bins, Shirley Smith, Nancy Earnest, Kay Meibergen, Jo Ellen Barnes, Deanna Spickelmier, and Carolyn Walters as the hula girls. A solo done by Terry Torbett completed the beautiful picture. Ginnie Geis and Ann Hayes were the directors of this act

The grand finale of the water show was the crowning of the Aquaette Queen. This year the queen was Miss Carol Cashion, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Dale Cashion. Her attend ants were Miss Jo Ellen Barnes and Miss Emagene Jenkins. After the introduction of the candidates for queen, who were the senior members of the Aquaettes, the two attendants swam a duet in her honor. Queen Carol got on her royal float after being crowned by the student council president, Larry Long The float in the shape of a carousel was moved by the candidates.

So ended another evening of fun at the circus'

The Aquaette officers this year were: president, Emagene Jenkins secretary, Terry Torbett; Treasurer. Deanna Spickelmier, program chairman, Jo Ellen Barnes; and historian Jo Ann Templeman. The sponsor of the Aquaettes was Miss Pat Armould

Girls' Intramurals

BY JUDY GROVE

I bree thirty six marks the end of the day in almost every part of Enid High School except in the gym. In the gym, activity goes on until 4-30, because it is in this hour that class work is made up, and also all in tramural work is done after school Every girl, whether she is enrolled in physical education or not, can enter the intramural tournaments which are sponsored by the Girls' Recreation Association

The first intramural tournament was a volley ball tournament. The winning team was the Redskins composed of Katy Bunnell, Mary Pace, Sharon Kellet, Christina Welch, Deanna Fisher, Donnis Oakley, Mil dred Buschmeyer, Pat Jones and Judy

Cirove

During January, girls from the swimming and physical education classes ventured to Classen High School in Oklahoma City to attend a play-day. Both schools participated in individual sports and swimming

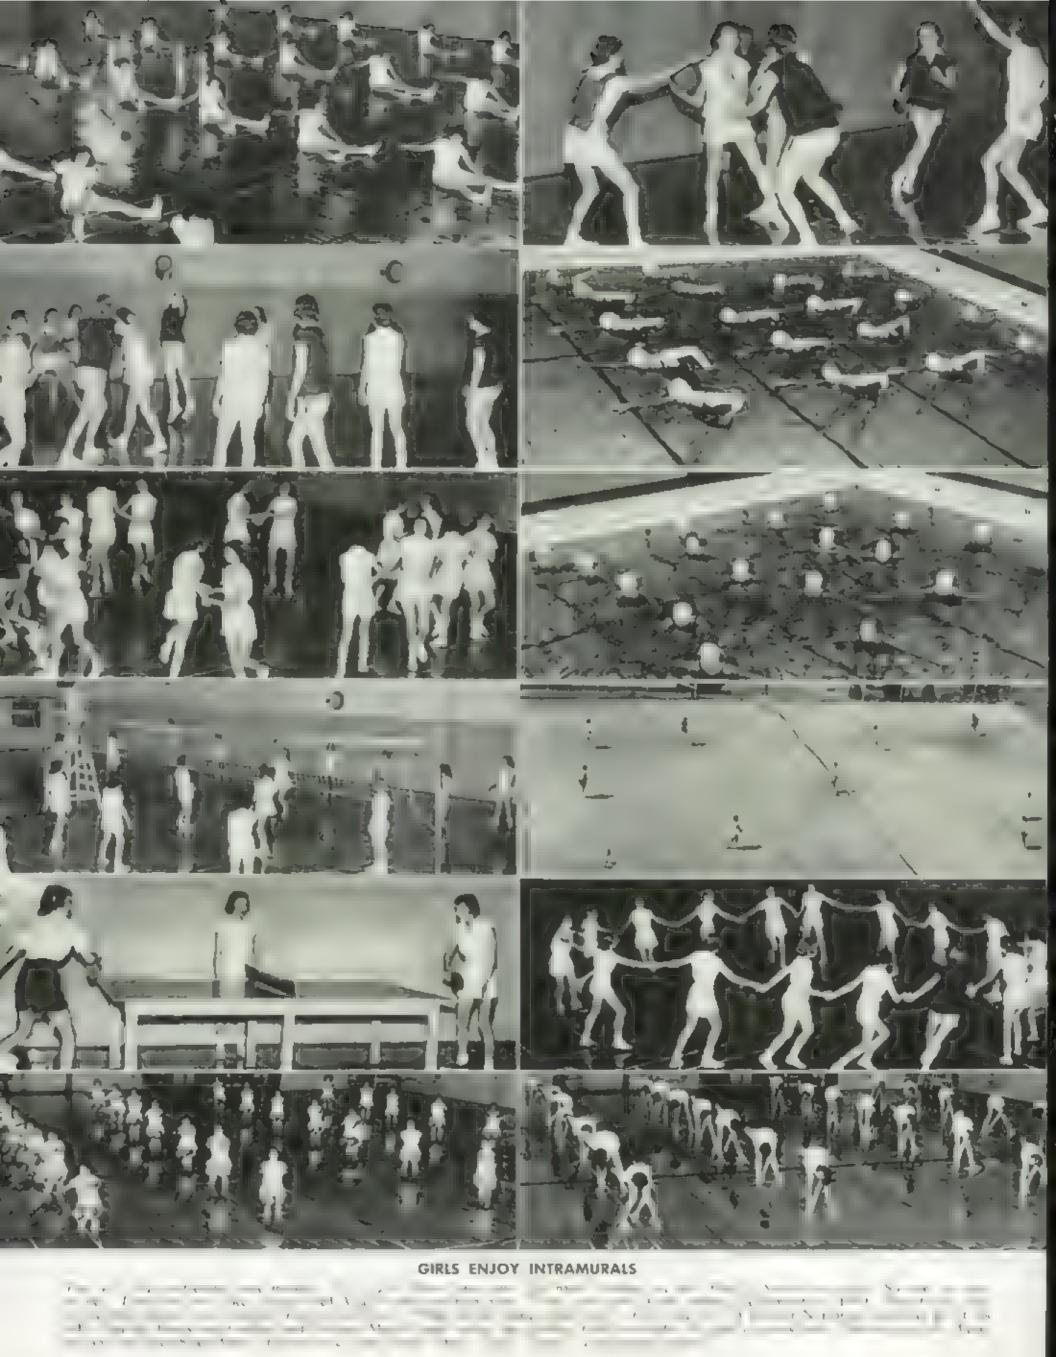

The first place medals in the bas ketball tournament also went to the Redskins. Second place medals were handed to Janice Teale's team which included Pat Danahy, Gretchen Fields, Judy Williams, Shirley Lebow, Karen Ludwig, Gerri Link, and Lorraine Koozer

In March, 12 girls from the swim ming classes went to Norman for a state swimming meet. In the synchronized events Nancy Earnest was second with a solo. In the duet di vision were: 3-Ann Hayes and Kay Meibergen: 4-Linda Robbins and Terry Torbett: 5-Ginny Geis, Ann Haves, Kay Meibergen and Nancy Earnest won first. Carol Cashion, Jo Ellen Barnes, Jerrie Pinkerton and Virginia Merritt took third place honors

"Once In A Springtime"

BY CHERREL NALL

The long awaited May season has now dawned, and the air is filled with happiness and admiration as the list Annual May Fere begins, featuring the Class of '55 preceded by the lovely Queen of May and the handsome May Herald

In a beautiful spring evening Government Springs Park sets the scene with the dignity of the arched bridge, the colorful waterfall, and momen tarily a procession of flowing formals, surrounding the reflecting lake

As the strains of Hail, Enid High School drift out into the distance, the Queen of May, Mary Beth Don-nell, and Herald, James Gammon, appear followed by their court of attendants and escorts. Allie Steers, dressed in foamy green is escorted by Larry Long, Jeansen Collier in luscious lavender with Phil Jones; Jane Carey in ice blue and escorted by Owen Wilson, Carole Shelp in Irothy turquoise with Bill Athey, Emagene Jenkins in canary yellow is escorted by John Pellow: Cherrel Nall dress ed in nastel pink walking with Ronnie Wedel, Pat Dennis, wearing candy pink, escorted by Bob Davis. and Bonnie Light, wearing delicate orchid, and her escort, Melvin Semrad

Coming next are the royal subjects of the Queen and Herald

While ascending the throne a fanfare of trumpets play, and Mary Beth is then presented with a crown of red roses and the traditional kiss from James

As the royal party is seated, a beautiful festival pageant of May Poles are wound by dancers paying tribute to the party, as the chorus along with the band, add their splendor to spring

Nature, as well as Enid High, has now contributed its beauty to the never-to-be-forgotten springtime

The evening descends, and the Queen and Herald lead the grand party away from the park to the Legion Hall where they are greeted in the large overflowing room by the graduates of '55

The May Fete Dance readily begins but too ends, and again comes to close the event so dear in the hearts and music of each senior in the Class of '55

Let Er Rip

BY DEANNA SPICKELMIER

Let 'er rip Let 'er roar Let 'er go once more Enid High School o'er and o'er FNID' ENID! ENID'

Let 'er Rip is the traditional E.H.S. yell. At each game the Brav ettes could be heard yelling it in support of their team

This year the Bravettes attended all the games from football to basketball to baseball

The Bravettes took buses to three out of town games. The first out of town trip which was taken was to Norman, the second trip was to Classen for a basketball game, and the third trip was taken to Ponca City for a baseball game

During the half-time of the Enid Stillwater football game the club collected $304 for the Oklahoma Medical Research Fund by passing containers through the audience. This was the largest amount collected in the state in this manner

At one assembly the girls sold Beat Lawton" tags to arouse interest in the Enid-Lawton football game being played that night

For the crowning of Judy Grove as Football Queen by Terry Ingram, co-captain, the Bravettes formed a pennant with the band forming JUDY and playing Hail Enid High School as Judy was driven onto the field with her attendants, Carol Cash ion and Phyllis Huffman Judy was presented a bouquet of roses and a sweater with a big "E" on it

Phyllis Huffman, Basketball Queen, was crowned by Ronnie Wedel. The Bravettes formed an aisle to the archway covered with flowers. The band played "Because of You" as the attendants, Cherrel Nall and Carol Cashion, walked out with their escorts. The Bravettes then knelt and sang "Mr Sandman, Bring Us a Queen" As Phyllis was escort ed onto the floor by Larry Long, the band played "Stairway to the Stars." Following the traditional kiss Jerrie Pinkerton sang "Sweet and Lovely" in honor of Phyllis

Carole Shelp was crowned Spring Sports Queen by Bill Athey between the first and second game of a doubleheader with Shawnee. Charles Ranck, representing the swimming team, and Bob Davis, representing the baseball team escorted the attendants, Jeaneen Collier and Jo Ellen Barnes, onto the field

The club presented one assembly this year duting basketball season Members of Bravettes sang a pep song and did a dance to "There's No Business Like Show Business." The Capitol Hill team was characterized and sung about in a song entitled "This Ole Team". Junior girls dressed as elves, portrayed each of the team members. The assembly was high lighted by an original "can can" dance by the members of the "A" basketball squad

The Bravette officers for 1954 1955 were. Deanna Spickelmier, president: Jerrie Pinkerton, vice president. Cherrel Nall, secretary: and Carolyn Walters, treasurer

The cheerleaders were the "great est" They wrote many new yells and sparked the Bravettes all the way Cheerleaders were: Jo Ellen Barnes, head cheerleader: Carol Cashion, Pat Philips, Linda Robbins, Sandra Caldwell, and Sandra Barris. Alternate cheerleaders were Ann Hayes and Patsy Hathoot

Boys' Intramurals

BY JOHN PILLOW

Intramural sports this year in cluded only individual participation in ping pong, tennis, and swimming Paul Geymann, athletic director, was head of the games

Sixty-four entries participated in the ping pong tournament, the largest number ever to take part in this particular event. The seven players advancing to the round robin stage were Phil Jones, John Rempel, David Sneary, Charles Gasaway, Milton Andrews, Ray Downs, and John Pellow

Intramural swimming which included diving and short races was held April 19 and 20. Boys entering were: Claude Jones, Bob Holcomb. Steve Meitler, Imo Cooper, Bruce Torbett, and Jerry Gearheard

The last boys' intramural games to be held were the tennis matches, with Larry Long, Jim Sturdivant, John and Paul Rempel, Bob Holcomb, and Ray Downs playing

The purpose of intramural sports in EHS is to allow more students to participate in sports.

Bon Voyage for Speech

By Kent Corey and Ben Harrison

The good ship E.H.S. Speech Department was launched November 4 as 29 bright eyed speechsters began the voyage to Norman for their first contest of the 1954-55 season

These eager hopefuls reached their destination with great expectations of the day's activities. Of the nineteen students entering into interscholastic competition, nine received superior ratings and ten received excellent

Of the two debate teams composed of Margaret Luhr and Kent Corey, and Bob Murray and Paul Rempel. both were rated superior. In girls extemp, Pat Phillips, superior, Kay Dailey, excellent. In boys extemp. Tommy Thomason and Ray Astabl both rated excellent. Dramatic reading, Rosetta Floyle, superior, Dan Durham and Mary Helen Callas, excellent. Humorous reading, Sandy Barris, superior, Suda Bobbitt, excellent Standard oratory, Bob Murray, excellent. Original oratory, Melvin Semrad, excellent, Bert Bucher, superior, Judy Cirove, excellent, Ben Harrison, superior, Poetry, Karen Crowley, superior Radio, Jerrie Pinkerton, superior, Bert Bucher, superior, David Sneary, excellent

In the Legislative Assembly. Ben Harrison was elected speaker of the house. Enid was represented with a mere sixteen delegates. The limit was four. The other twelve representatives were merely observers with voting power. The return voyage home was a pleasant one, with a bright outlook for future trips.

The second voyage was a short one, from the standpoint of distance, as we just went to Phillips University But the crew fared quite well with Pat Phillips winning first in extemp, and Kay Dailey winning second. In the boy's extemp, Tommy Thomason won third and Ralph Myers, fourth. In radio speaking, Bert Bucher and David Sneary won first and third, respectively. Jertie Pinkerton won first in her division in girls' radio, and Margaret Lubr won fourth. But the debaters almost got washed overboard with the four-man teams of Bert Bucher, Margaret Luhr Kay Dailey and Paula Paine winning only one debate out of four, and Ben-Harrison, Kent Corey, Paul Rempel and Bob Murray winning two out of four. Others participating were Rosetta Hoyle and Betty Jo Albright in dramatic reading, Mike Nicolson and Suda Bobbitt in humorous read ing, Wade Chambers and Bob Murray in public address. Bert Bucher and Ben Harrison in original oratory The good ship E H. S. Speech De partment captured the Phillips contest and brought aboard the Second Place Sweepstakes Trophy

With this victory, the crew and its captain, Mrs. Una Lee Voigt, turned the ship south towards the port of Oklahoma City. This contest was a five-state affair with the best schools in the state taking part. The crew landed with the hope of victory and visions of the first place trophy in mind. Enid's debate teams won a total of 18 debates. On the teams were. Tom Thomason and Ray Asfahl won 3, Raul Rempel, Kent Corey, Bert Bucher, and David Sneary, won 2, Wade Chambers and Ralph Myers won 3, Richard Gott and James Landrum won 1. Mike Geis and Dick Scarritt won 3. Caro lyn Muir and Carolyn Lacy won 2. and Pat Phillips and Kay Dailey Won 4. Two members of the crew won firsts, Kent Corey, after dinner speaking, and Mary Edith Taylor poetry, and two winning second, Wade Chambers, standard oratory, and Bert Bucher, original oratory Others entering were Ann Hayes and Norma Thompson, dramatic literature, Sandra Barris and Gregg Bond, humorous reading. Bert Bucher and Ray Asfahl, extemp, Paula Paine and Pat Phillips, Girls extemp. Judy Grove, original oratory, Cinda Siler, standard oratory, Pat Phillips, after dinner speaking, and Marilyn Giles. poetry. When the points were counted the good ship E H S Speech Dept found that Enid had won the first place sweepstakes. The Skipper, Mrs Voigt was presented a 24-inch gold trophy. Yet this was the calm before the storm. The biggest battle was yet to come.

On December 10, only six days after the victory at Oklahoma City the captain and crew were face to face with one of the hardest battles of the year at the Oklahoma Baptist Uni versity's annual speech contest at Shawnee, Oklahoma. Of the six debate teams, only two advanced into finals, the A team of Milton Andrews and Paul Rempel and the D team of Kent Corey and Bert Bucher. The other teams were. David Sneary and Bob Murray, won two: Ray Potter and Dan Durham, won one: Tommy Thomason and Wade Chambers, won three and Paula Paine and Cinda Siler won two. No one won first at Shawnee, but Wade Chambers got second in standard oratory, Kay Dailey, second in dramatic reading. and Jerrie Pinkerton, second in radio speaking

Others participating were Paul Rempel, David Sneary and Kent Corey receiving excellent in discussion. Mike Nicolson, Sanda Barris, and Kent Corey in humorous reading, Kay Dailey, Paula Paine in girls extemp, and Milton Andrews, Bert Bucher, and Bob Murray in boys extemp, Ben Harrison, Bert Bucher and Jerrie Pinkerton in original oratory. Norma Thompson in dramatic read ing, Mary Edith Taylor in Bible Reading, Bob Murray in standard oratory, Paula Paine and Mary Edith Taylor in poetry, David Sneary in boys radio, and Cinda Siler and Bob Murray in analysis of public address But the worst was yet to come

was playing, but he was gone. We went in the same direction as the people were going until we came to Rocket Stadium. Paying the ticket taker. Donna Roberts, two diamonds per person, we made ourselves comfortable for the game between the Neptune Nutty Nine and the Pluto Planetarium Prevaricators. Those on the Nutty Nine were Terry Ingram, Tom Adams, Dean Lukenbaugh, Jim Reim, Doug Young, Don Le Crone Jim Legg, Don Seltenreich with Steve Meitler as captain. Heading the opposing Prevaricators was Roxy Lewey as captain. Her teammates were Janet Kindt, Tacie McKinnon, Pat Phil lips, Barbara Kutz, Deleta McGugin. Bernice Wagner, and Judy Goucher Umpiring the game were John Pounds and Nancy Harding. Some of our old acquaintances we saw in the audience. Among them were Willis Babb, Mike Austin, Gloria Loomis, Mary Jo Langford, and George Rinehart

Our Mission was almost forgotten as we watched the cheerleaders, Larry Long, Jim Brown, Elwyn Maddox Kenneth Goodloe, Ronald La Porte and Rodger Cornelius

Suddenly we saw a ball of fire It was the Stratogem blasting off We rushed quickly back to our positions on the ship and prepared for take off

We had almost overtaken the Stratogem when the funniest thing happened—No fuel

We set our glide path for the near est asteroid station which was run by the Warren twins. Melvin and Marvin. We were refueled by their attendants. Shirley Haskins and Fred Brewer. Paula Paine and Jo Nelson

Again in pursuit of the thieves who had outdistanced us, we received a message on our televiewer from the captain of the UBI. Organization. Ray Potter His report was that cadets Jean Hampton, Bob Murray, Dorothy Hart, Freddy Campbell and Betty Galusha had seen the fleeing ship pass by their patrol station, headed for Neptune

Arriving in Neptune we saw a water show in progress. Those doing fancy flips and dives were Jo Albright, Marlene Cline, Jeaneen Collier, Carolyn Boyer, Pat Brogdon, Carol Cashion, Jo Ann Templeman, Barbara Wilkins, Donnie Raymond, George Ragan, Phil Schrock, Richard Streckler

Those vieing for the title of King Neptune were: Pug Gammon, Don Guerkink, Jerry Grammont, Bill Hall, Doyle Mauk, Melvin Semrad, Bill Athey, Bob Davis, Owen Wilson, and Jerry Wasemiller

Those on the judging panel were: Carolyn Higgins, Marjotie Hendricks, Mary Lynne Hopkins, Carol Hoyle, Dolores Rickabaugh, and Carrie Carter The wishes of "a thousand words" are expressed more thoughtfully with flowers

Suddenly the lights went out Through the ensuing confusion a switch was finally found. When the room was relighted, the girls discovered that their krypton jewelry had disappeared. The Neptune police force was immediately called in Captain Bob Kurz and Sergeants Jerry McHenry and Barbara Burdick questioned the doormen. Donna Newland, Ruth Noah, and Carl Thompson. The girls told them that seven masked men had run by

We quickly rushed after them and found that they had already left. We tound ourselves headed for the outer planet. Pluto. As we neared the planet, our braking rockets gave out, and we were in a dead fall heading towards Pluto

Immediately an ambulance driven by Phil Woolwine, came screaming out after us. Luckily none of us were seriously hurt, but Dr. David Sneary with his nurses, Barbara Smith and Linda Williams, had us patched up and made us ready to follow our quest in no time at all

We headed for the known hang outs of Baby-faced Benjie We were told by a Plutopop dealer, Larry Harmon, that Benjie and the gang had gone to the hound races

When we arrived with the help of a few local "PPF's" (Pluto Police Force), Bernard Pfaff, June Parham, Charles Dulany, and Donna Carson we surrounded the track. Agents Durham and Jones entered the track to look for the gang. We bumped into Charles Gasaway and Jimmy Hart betting on their tickets from the bookie, Larry Day. All of a sudden we saw them. Once they saw they were surrounded, they surrendered Now it was back to earth for the trial inaugurated. The oath of office was administered by N. B. Johnson, the Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, and an address was given by Johnston Murray, former Governor of Oklahoma. After the Inauguration a reception was held in honor of the newly elected officers, which was attended by Girls' State Citizens, alumni of Girls' State, and visitors from all over the state

Thursday morning, the Senate and House of Representatives held both a separate and joint session. That after noon, Miss Margaret Behringer, an attorney from Oklahoma City and Judge John A. Brett, from the State Criminal Court of Appeals organized the courts, which then held a mock trial. The girls had a picnic Thurs day evening, then every girl participated in her city's stunt for Amateur Hour

On Friday each city selected an outstanding citizen; then these girls were presented medals before the entire assembly. The last class of the week, held Friday afternoon, was entitled "The State of Oklahoma". The girls told about the industries, parks, and other features in the cities they came from Then at 6:30, dressed in their party dresses, the girls loaded into the busses to go to Norman for the Girls' State-Boys' State Dance The band that played for the dance was composed of citizens of Boys State. At 11:30, the girls reluctantly loaded into the busses again to start the return trip to Chickasha

Saturday morning, the last morning at Chickasha, two girls gave a summary of Girls' State, and each girl received a certificate showing her achievements while at Girls' State Also the director for 1954, Mrs. R. L. Parker, announced that Pat Phillips and Barbara Marcum would represent Oklahoma at Girls' Nation After singing the song 'Oklahoma' as no other group could ever sing it, and retiring the colors, the girls said goodbye and started for home

The girls from Enid caught a train back home where a welcoming committee was waiting for them. The five girls from Enid feel deeply in debted to the American Legion Auxiliary and their individual sponsors for making it possible for them to participate in that wonderful week at Chickasha, and they only wish that every girl in Enid could have that experience

Dear Diary

To be or not to be"

Since formally being initiated into the Thespian drama society on February 16, I have definitely decided to become an actress

Room For One More", the Thespian production, was quite a hit I might add that it was the first play to be given in the newly finished auditorium of EHS

Most of the credit for this year's work goes to Mrs. Delyte Poindexter and the officers. They include Karen Crowley, president: Rosetta Hoyle vice president, Pat Sharp, secretary Wade Chambers, treasurer, and John Rempel, clerk. Class representatives were Paul Rempel and Elaine Paletek.

scored 350 points over the season and averaged 13.46 points per game. He was also named to the All Conference team.

A tragic three game road trip at the first of the campaign got the Plainsmen off to the wrong foot in season's action. Enid lost in an over time to the Guymon Tigers 48-46, and then went westward to the Borger, Texas Invitational Tournament. The host Texans walloped the Plainsmen 82-55 to hand Enid its second loss in as many outings. In the consolation game at the Texas roundball tourney, the Capitol Hill Redskins dumped Geymann's boys 48-38. The Lubbock quintet had defeated the Redskins in first round play, but lost to Borger in the finals.

The Plainsmen finally got into the winning groove by taking successive wins over the Ponca City Wildcats by a 66-36 verdict and over the Woodward Boomers 77-52. Skarky pumped in 22 and 23 points in each of the two contests to pace the team scoring in the earlier part of the sea

Enid was upset by a surprisingly strong team from Blackwell 61-52 on the losers' home court. That de feat was later avenged on the Black well floor, 54 49

On Dec. 21, the Plainsmen avenged a second of their defeats by blasting Guymon 65 50 Skarky hit 27 points in the game, his season high

In conference action, the Plains men won 5 and lost 5. They topped the Shawnee Wolves twice 69.5" and 82.57. Enid registered two decisions over the Central Cardinals of Oklahoma City with 64.44 and 64.41 verdicts. The fifth loop win was the 63-59 conquest of the Norman

In the 82 57 rout of Shawner Wedel tied the Enid High School scoring record of 36 points, set by Jimmy Hurd in 1951. The red hor redhead hit 13 fieldgoals and sank 10 of 11 charity tosses

The Plainsmen could not seem to make a dent in the spotless record of the towering Classen Comets as they bowed to the Cityans twice, 54 44 and 70-64. The Comets captured the championship trophy at the Enid Invitational Tournament held in Convention Hall by defeating Ponca City and El Reno on consecutive nights

In the regional tournament held March 11 and 12 in Sand Springs the boys from the Wheat Capitol outlasted the host Sandites 44 36 in their first round struggle. This victory was one of the most impressive showings of the year by Enid In the hard fought game, Wedel received an ankle injury that deprived him of playing in the next game against the Bartlesville Wildcats. In the game the Wildcats jumped to a first quarter lead on spurts by their aces Bobbs Green and Dave Baker, and Bartles ville, being aware that they didn't have the tools to shoot it out with the Plainsmen, played keepaway bas ketball and emerged with a 39 31 victors.

Eight seniors and five juniors comprised the thirteen lettermen on the squad. Seniors earning monograms were: Ronnie Wedel, Terry Ingram Pug. Gammon, Johnny Vosburg Melvin Semrad, John Pellow and managers Phil Jones and Jim Reim Juniors, who lettered were Floyd Skarky, Ronnie Feger, Gail Crawford, H. L. Crites and manager Bob Bailes.

The return of the junior lettermen will give Coach Geymann a solid nucleus to build next year's team on

The "B squad, under the coaching of Jim Stroup, had another successful season, winning 14 and losing only 6. This year's "B" teamers were: Dean Montgomery, Bob Dundas, John Doop, Billy Max Francis Gary Grimes Bobby Haves, Jerry Keeling, Bob Bish, Barry Clements Gene Bodes, Gary Thrasher, John team, Bill Francis, Bill Athey, Tom Harian and John Pellow finished second. Placing fourth in the 440 yard dash was Bill Lang. Don Wel don cracked the pole vault record with II feet and 4 inches. Not satisfied with one record, he broadjumped 21 feet 1/2 inch, breaking Terry Ingram's mark of 21 feet even set last year Weldon placed second in the high jump as teammate Ronnie Wedel managed third, attempting jumps with a pulled muscle. Charles Bailey hurled the shot to third place title and Billy Max Francis was third in the broad jump. In the final event, the mile relay, Bill Lang, Bill Athey Tom Harlan and John Pellow fin ished with a time of 3:40 to win first, and Enid took home the trophy for top team scoring in the Regional Frack Meet

The winners of Regionals qualify for state, where each individual puts his bid in for championship in his particular event. Enid had qualified eight men for the State track and field meet to be held next week. April 29-30. The Aggie Relays, which had been called off due to bad weath et, were rescheduled for Wednesday. May 4, the week following the state tournament

Due to the fact that the annual went to press before these last two track meets were held, no account can be given as to their outcome

The Aggie Relays, held in Stillwater, brought to a close the 1955 track season. It had been the job of each individual to prepare himself for the stiff competition in his event. Although track is less publicized, its training and conditioning can be considered the roughest of all sports Congratulations to Coach Paine and the Plainsmen track squad for their fine representation of Entd in Oklahoma track circles the first three innings and four runs in the fourth, Enid coasted to a 7-1 victory with Bob Atkinson hurling Terry Ingram, continuing his hitting spree, connected for a triple and a single in three trips to the plate Meitler got two singles

Playing Central on April 4, the Plainsmen defeated the Cardinals 16-6. Terry Ingram hit a homerun and double to lead the Enid hitters. Don Weldon got four hits while Melvin Semrad and Bob Davis got three hits each. E. H. S. got 16 runs on 16 hits and three errors while Central had 6 runs, 8 hits and 7 errors. Keeling got credit for the fourth conference win for the Plainsmen

Enid High School played the Capitol Hill Redskins on April 11 to wrestle for the Conference lead Both teams had 4-1 records going into the contest. Bob Atkinson, bothered with a sore arm the week before, went the entire route for the Plainsmen and lost by a score of 5-3 in the sixth inning. The Plainsmen had come from behind in the top of the sixth and led 3-2, until Capitol Hill scored three times in the last half to ice the game. H. L. Crites led Enid's hitting by getting two of the six hits the team managed

Carole Shelp, Spring Sports Queen was crowned April 12, preceding the Enid-Alva game. Enid went on to defeat Alva 8 3 behind Bob Conklin and Don Carey. Carey struck out eight of the 10 he faced and walked only one. Bob Davis and Terry Ingram both hit triples, while the Alva pitcher was being pounded for 10 hits.

The day following the Alva game the Plainsmen journeyed to Norman to play the Tigers in a double header. The first game went until the ninth inning with the lead see-sawing back and forth. Then in the last half of the ninth, Norman scored a run and took the victory. It was one of Enid's worst games with the team making five errors. The loser was Ronald LaPorte, who pitched a two hit ball game for the six innings he pitched

In the nite-cap, Enid scored four times off the Tiger's ace, John Wood all, while Bob Atkinson held Norman to three runs on five hits. Gary Bloom got one of Enid's two hits, which was rather surprising for it was discovered the next day that Gary's arm was broken. He had been hit in the arm on the previous Tues day by an Alva pitcher but nothing was thought about it until the pain became intense. X Rays showed the arm was broken and Gary was or dered not to play for the rest of the season. End's record to date in the conference was six wins and three losses

Taking off again the next day, Enid traveled to Classen for the fourth conference clash and the fifth game of the week. Don Carey started for the Plainsmen and pitched the first shutout of the season, beating the Comets 20. The sophomore right-hander gave up six scattered hits and walked none. Terry Ingram scored both of Enid's runs on sacrifices by John Vosburg. Vosburg also made the fielding play of the day when he raced in on a low line drive, dived for it, rolled over, and came up with it fast in his glove.

The Plainsmen played Ponca City and Garber on Monday and Tuesday preceding the Norman tournament In both of these games, Enid had a lead but lost it in the final innings Davis and Spaid hit homeruns for the Plainsmen against Ponca City. The scores of these two games were Ponca City 10, Enid 8, and Garber 6 to Enid's 3

Entering the Norman tournament, Enid's first game was with Northeast High School of Oklahoma City Trailing 2-0 in the sixth inning Enid rallied and tied it up. Then, in the eighth inning after two men were out. Vosburg singled and Davis tripled to score the winning run That afternoon Enid defeated Clas

sen 8 3 to get into the semi-finals

In the semi-final game, Ronald LaPorte started against Lawton but gave up six hits in the first inning with the Plainsmen's defense collapsing to commit four errors. LaPorte was record in the fourth inning by lerry Keeling. After five innings Lawton was leading 10-1. Because of the eight run ruling for the tournament, the game was over

Lawton was defeated in the finals by Central, a team which Enid had earlier beaten 16-6

The Enid team had shown good team spirit and a strong desire to win The entire squad had worked well under the advice of Coach John Provost. Provost had looked forward to having a good season. He said, "It may take until the middle of the season to get the pitchers into good form, but we'll have a strong team for the finish. We'll have a higher standing than we had last year."

wood Country Club on December 18, the State School January 28, and the Enid Business College March 28 The stage band appeared before the students of Enid High School at the valentine assembly at the Education building on February 11. Gregg Bond gave his version of Romeo and Juliet and was emcee of the show keeping the audience in stitches. Kent Corey and the band acting as sound effects teased the students with "Uncle Remus's story of Bre'r Rabbit and Bre'r Fox " The stage band was divided into two bands, the red and blue bands, each had soloists Robert Qualls on the saxophone and David Adams on the cornet. They each played several numbers. Phil Wool wine and Terry Torbett added their two cents worth dancing the rhumba to "Mejauja Inez."

Ponca City High School received the stage band on the Ponca City trade assembly with a great deal of enthusiasm as the bend members along with other E H S. students en tertained the Poncans in real style

The German band really did strut their stuff when they played for the ABC Club October 22 all decked out in the traditional black derbys and white stuts

The Quarterback Club felt the real spirit of Enid High when the Pep Band put "the feeling" into their meeting

The cornet trio represented the band at the dedication assembly of the new wing, cafeteria, and the au ditorium March 8

The band appeared at all of the home basketball games and joined again with the Bravettes in the coronation of perky Phyllis Huffman Basketball Queen and her attendants Carol Cashion and Cherrel Nall

Sally Bonham and Mary Jo Lang ford represented the band at the All State Band Clinic in Norman, Okla homa

January 22 the band was asked to help the Phillips University basket ball game

The band looked forward to the coming district, and state, and tristate music festival

To finish the year off in fine style the juniors and seniors had a banquet for the seniors

The year's accomplishments were topped off with the annual "Symphony, Song and Swing," March 17. The program was held in the new EHS auditorium — the first school function to be held there! The first section of the show was composed of classical music and ended with Sandy Barris's reading "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz

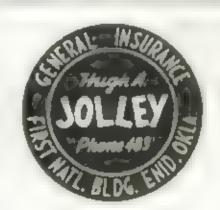

The stage band played several numbers. Then the special features came around. Terry Torbett and Grady King did their special arrangement of the rhumba. The "spook Torbett dressed in a ghastly ghost costume along with Gregg "Butch Bond and his dandy drums. Kent "guest conductor" Corey rolled the audience in the aisles when he took over the band in his tux and tails

The show was ended with Mr G. R. Bonham who led the band in Alexander's Ragtime Band."

The officers of the band this year were Phil Jones, president: Garoid Henson, vice - president: Emagene Jenkins, secretary: Milton Andrews, publicity manager: David Adams, quarter master: Jerry Wilkins, quarter master: Bill Hill, drum major Robert Qualls, assistant drum major The student director was Milton Andrews way to paydirt. In the last minute of play, Pellow went 38 yards for the second score of the game

With 15 Enid Seniors donning the blue and white uniforms for the last time, the Plainsmen traveled to El Reno only to receive their sixth set back of the year. The Enid boys grabbed a 7-0 halftime lead, but let it slip from their grasp in the half, when the Indians exploded for two quick touchdowns in the third stanza Fullback Jody Farris intercepted an Enid pass and went 53 yards for the touchdown. Moments later, Farris boomed 73 yards on an off-tackle slant to hand his teammates a lead which they never relinquished. All Mid State halfback Pellow scored the Enid touchdown on a brilliant 68 yard dash. Another All Mid State performer for the Plainsmen, center Billy Lang, played a tremendous game on defense being in on 11 out of 13 tackles in the first quarter. The Seniors playing their last game were Johnny Pellow and Terry Ingram (Co-captains), Bill Athey, John Pounds, John O'Neill, Charles Bailey, Carl Stanton, Ray Downs. Steve Meitler, Carl Thompson, Buddy Champlin, Neal Hoffman, Donnie Weldon, Bob Davis, and Larry Long

Bob Davis led the Plainsmen in the ground gaining department for the year, amassing a personal total of 659 yards rushing in 117 carries for an average of 5.6 yards per carry Johnny Pellow averaged 8 2 yards on 80 carries and scored 13 times while throwing three touchdown passes. Donnie Weldon gained 247 yards in 44 attempts for an average of 56 yards. Weldon scored five touchdowns. Quarterback Terry Ingram, who handled the bulk of the Enid passing duties, completed 22 out of 68 passes for completion percentage of 34 per cent. Pellow punted 36 times for an average of 31 yards per boot. Grady King punted twice for a 33 yard average. Ray Downs hit 18 out of 27 attempted extra points during the 1954 Plainsmen season

The Enid B's in 1954 had their best season in many years. Coached by John Provost and Jim Stroup, the B's had an impressive 7-win and I loss record

They squeaked by Stillwater and Blackwell by the identical 13-12 score, and then outfought Ponca Mil itary Academy 27 6

The subs played most of the last half as Carmen was downed 44-7. In the return game with blackwell the Jayvee's ran roughshod over the Maroons, winning 40-14. The next week against the second best class C team in the state, the Laverne Tiggrs, they were overwhelmed 54-13.

Easy return wins, 40-14 over PMA, and 28-13 over Stillwater concluded one of the most successful seasons the B Enid Plainsmen Footballers have had in many a year

ing. Enid ranked second to Blackwell at the Blackwell Tourney. But every cloud has its silver lining, for Enid was to receive its biggest win at the next port

The battle worn ship limped into Alva with its crew still smarting from its bitter loss at Blackwell. The Alvatournament looked like one of the hardest of the year, but to everyone's surprise. Enid pulled the sweepstakes out of the hat with the Enid A debate team winning first, and Enid B winning second. The A team consisted of Kent Corey and Pat Phillips while the B team was Bert Bucher and Ben Harrison. Ten people qualified for the state contest. These were Karen Crowley, poetry, Mike Nicholson, humorous reading, Rosetta Hoyle, dramatic reading; Bert Bucher, original oratory: Wade Chambers, public address: Melvin Semrad, radio speaking: Margaret Luhr, girls radio David Sneary, discussion: Ben Harrison, boys extemp and Kay Dailey. girls extemp. Enid simply carried everything home from Alva. The other students entered were Mary Edith Taylor, Sandy Barris, Bob Murray, Jerry Wilkins, Suda Bobbitt, Paul Rempel, and the radio play All in all, the Alva trip was quite worthwhile

With hopes for another sweep stakes trophy, the good ship EHS Speech Department turned towards the Edmond tournament. This is known by debaters as "Little State" because if you can win here, you can win at the state contest. Just as the crew had expected, the trip was quite rough. Enid led the way to the sweep stakes, but at the last minute Central High School pulled away from Enid to win the trophy by only two points. But Enid had her radio play and one act play both qualify for the state meet. Also qualifying were Ralph Myers in analysis of public address, and Milton Andrews in discussion. Paul Rempel won third in analysis of public address, David Sneary won superior, in discussion, and Kent Corey won third in boys extemp. Others entered were Pat Phillips and Kay Dailey in girls extemp, Bert Bucher and Melvin Semrad in original oratory, Charles Hicks, Kay Watson and Marilyn Giles in poetry, Mike Nicolson and Sandy Barris in humorous reading, Suda Bobbitt and Mike Nicolson in radio speaking, Paula Paine and Tommy Thomason in public address, Bob Holcomb and Norma Thompson in dramatic reading. The Enid crew wasn't dismayed at their near win, for they were just resting from their sweep at Alva

The good ship EHS Speech De partment landed at Midwest City for the second N. F. L. Congress of the year. The fifteen delegates scored a record number of N. F. L. points Ben Harrison was elected the out standing representative, and Pat Phil lips was nominated for the National Congress this summer in California High point man was Kent Corey of the Senate and Paul Rempel of the House

On March 11, the ship turned east to the N. F. L. District Tournament at Stillwater The debate teams went a total of six rounds. The A team of Kent Corey and Pat Phillips went four, and the B team of Ben Harrison and Bert Bucher went only two. Pat Phillips went six rounds to win first in girls extemp. Ben Harrison, too, went six rounds but he received fourth. Kay Dailey went four rounds in girls extemp.

Paul Rempel went three rounds. Ray Asfahl, Wade Chambers and Mike Nicholson went two rounds in their individual events. Ann Hayes went four rounds in public address to go on into the finals. In the final tabulations. Enid came in third for the sweepstakes

The weary ship paused one day at Enid to be the hosts of the third N F L. Congress, March 26 Over thirteen schools came to the congress with over 100 participating. Enid again took top honors as four delegates from Enid were given honors. Ben Harrison was nominated for National Congress along with Paul Rempel and Bert Bucher, Outstanding representatives were Milton Andrews, Bert Bucher and Paul Rempel. The Nine teen Enid students totaled up 208 N. F. L. congress points, Another triumph for the battle worn, unsink able ship

Through rain, sleet, hail and dust storms, nothing can stop the progress of the good ship EHS Speech Department. With two first place trophies, one second place trophy and many happy hours of past achievements and honors, the speech students look forward to the crown ing achievement of the year, the State Tournament at Norman. As a helms man sees far off shore, the senior members of the crew see their last contest of their high school career These seniors were Milton Andrews Bert Bucher, Kent Corey, Karen Crowley, Kay Dailey, Ben Harrison, Ralph Myers, Mike Nicolson Rosetta Hoyle, Margaret Luhr, David Sneary, Melvin Semrad, and Pat Phil lips. These are the members of the crew that will never embark on an other voyage with the loyal crew But there are many more recruits for the good ship, for Mrs. Poindexter this year, has 68 bright eyed sophomores ready to take the places vacated by the senior members of the good ship, E.
